CIGAR FACTORIES CLOSED.

SEVEN THOUSAND MEN OUT OF WORK. BOTH EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYES DETERMINED NOT TO YIELD.

The eigarmakers' strike and general lock-out assumed a definite form yesterday. Every firm belonging to the Manufacturers' Union either paid up its disaffected employes in the course of the day or made arrangements for the payment of their wages later in the week. The firms composing the union are S. Jacoby & Co., F. Macoy & Co., James Brussel & Co., Levy Brothers, Bondy, Lederer & Co., Kaufman Brothers, George P. Lies, Kaufmann Brothers & Bondy, S. Ottenberg & Brothers, Lichtenstein Brothers & Co., Kerbs & Spiers, Brown & Earl, Sutro & Neumark, and Foster, Hillson & Co. The total number of men and women who will to-day be without employment is placed at 7,000. In the morning a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Manufacturers' Union, consisting of F. Macoy, S. Jacoby, V. Neumark, B. L. Lichtenstein and Theodore Levy, met at the Belvedere Hotel for the purpose of considering the situation. It was decided that the lock-out should begin this morning unless the strikers withdrew their demands. Several letters from manufacturers not in the union, promising assistance in case the strikers belond be a long one, were read. The cigarmakers' strike and general lock-out as begin this morning unless the strikers withdrew their demands. Several letters from manufacturers not in the union, promising assistance in case the strike should be a long one, were read.

The general feeling in regard to the strike is that it will last for several months. "It couldn't have occurred at a better time in the whole year," said F. Macoy, to a Tribune reporter. "Our business during the spring was unusually large, as the reduction of the tax on cigars stimulated trade to an unusual degree. We employed a large force in our factory even after the season was over, and so accumulated a large stock of goods. Hence we can shut down now for a few months without being seriously injured in our general trade. If the strike should continue after September 1, we would be placed in an unenviable position. I do not know what these eigarmakers who are thrown out of employment will do after the factories are closed. They have been making, for the past three months, more money than at any time since the war. It they have saved their earnings, well and good. If not, I am afraid there will be suffering among them. There will be 600 thrown out of work in this factory alone. They are sorry, many of them, that the strike has occurred, but make no complaint."

At the office of S. Jacoby & Co., in Chatham-square, it was learned that the lock-out would not affect the 125 Spaniards and Cubaus who are in the em-the 125 Spaniards and Cubans who are in the employ of the firm. They have a protective organization among themselves, but up to the present time have taken no action in regard to the strike.

The two cizarmakers' associations which are the occasion of the present strike are the Cigarmakers' Progressive Union and the Cigarmakers' International Union of America. The facts concerning the extent of the first of these organizations and the provisions which it has made for carrying out the strike have already been given. S. Strasser, the president of the international Union, yesterday made the following statement concerning his association:

the president of the International Union, yesterday made the following statement concerning his association:

"The union was organized June 21, 1864, and comprises to-day 185 separate divisions. It is a mutual benefit association. The weekly assessment placed on each member is twenty cents. As our membership is large, numbering about 170,000, this gives us a heavy annual income. The general fund of the union on December 1 was $77,506 29, and the striking fund $85,000. By the provisions of our constitution the general fund can never fall below $3.50 per member. If it does, an assessment is made. When a strike occurs in a city the members of the union who are thrown out of work are paid $4 a week each until the strike is over. If any one desires to leave town and go elsewhere, the union pays the person's fare and gives where, the union pays the person's fare and gives where, the union pays the person's fare and gives when fity cents additional. In this way no member paed suffer on account of the strike. We have enough money on hand at the present time to assist all members of our organization interested in the present lock-out for at least two years; but I don't imagine it will last as long as that."

A special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Progressive Union was held at Lincoln Hall in Allen-st. last evening. Delegates from the workmen employed at the several factories in which the lockout is to take place to-day were present and made reports. No one seemed discouraged at the turn the strike has taken. Some were even pleased that there was to be a lockout, for, they argued, an opportunity would now be given them to take a vacation during the heated term. Vincent Woytisek, the secretary of the Union, made the following statement concerning the present state of the society:

"We have made large additions to our membership to-day. Two hundred non-union men from the factory of Levy Brothers joined us and sixty-eight more from Lichtenstein Brothers & Co. We intend to get as many more to enter our ranks as eight more from Lichtenstein Brothers & Co. We intend to get as many more to enter our ranks as he possibly can. Our men are obtaining positions elsewhere. Straiton & Storm, it is reported, intend to open a new factory which will require the employment of one thousand hands. They have already signified their willingness to employ our locked out members. We have to-day assisted 200 workmen to leave this city for positions elsewhere, and will no doubt send as many mors to-morrow. All the manufacturers have not carried out their threats, for the strippers engaged in the factories of Bondy, Lederer & Co., Kaufmann Brothers & Bondy, and Levy Brothers have not been discharged and will continue to do their work as usual. Contributions are pouring in to assist us in maintaining our position. We have made no assessments upon our members as yet. But have Contributions are pouring in to assist us in maintaining our position. We have made no assessments upon our members as yet, but have simply asked for voluntary contributions. These, it is expected, will be sufficient to support our men until they can provide themselves with work; this will probably be at no long distant day. This strike, as you know, is brought about by the refusal of 200 respectable men to work with fifteen 'scabs' We have not demanded an increase of wages, for we are well paid now. We simply asked that these offensive men should be discharged, and that is all."

There will be a mass-meeting of the members of the Progressive Union at Irving Hall at 10 a. in. to-day for the purpose of discussing the present condition of affairs and what should be done to further the interests of the workmen.

The Executive Committee of the International Union also met last evening, and voted to sustain the action of the members who have entered into the strike. The distribution of the striking fund will be begun at once.

MR. NOBLES GREATLY IMPROVED. NO ONE BUT HIMSELF RESPONSIBLE FOR HIS FOOL-ISH ACTS.

ISH ACTS.

There was great improvement in the condition of John C. Nobles yesterday, and when he was seen by a Tribute reporter there was nothing in his appearance to singgest a man who two days before had seriously contemplated suicide.

"I want to thank you," he said, "for the entirely correct and fair report published this morning. I piaced myself in the hands of The Tribute, and I have no reason to regret it so far as its treatment of me is concerned. I can see now that the only mistake was made by myself, and while The Tribute has done nothing contrary to good journalism, I know the press is not run in the interest of 'cranks,' If I were to write up myself I could fill a page that would astonish my friends. There was a statement in The World to-day which I exceedingly regret because it is nutrue. In that statement the editor of The Atlantic Highlands Herald is quoted as reflecting on Thi. Tributure for printing the letter addressed to Dr. Buckley, instead of sending it to that genticman. But in my fetter to the Editor of your paper I asked him to publish it and to send it to Dr. Buckley only in case he would not publish it. The Tributure did exactly as I requested. In the editorial remarks on my case the suggestion is made that I may have written these letters with the intention to cover up an escape from my creditors. The suggestion is a natural one that would most likely have occurred to me in regard to another person, but I was perfectly honest in my avowed intention to take my life. I can see now how clouded my mind must have been from overwork and worry, for in conversation with some of my friends to-day I find my financini affairs are not nearly as bad as they seemed to me at the time. One paper says I have to be a suggestion is false, for I have never been a pattent in such an institution. Another paper says I am to-might to be taken to an insane asylum for treatment. It is true that I am going away for rost and treatment, but not to an any limit.

WHAT THE ALDERMEN DID.

WHAT THE ALDERMEN DID.

The Aldermen yesterday requested the Police Commissioners to reliase permission to the Salvation Army to parade the streets to the music of base drums, tambourines and other instruments.

Several weeks ago the Board passad a resolution directing the police to stop the passage of vehicles turough Washington Square while the open-air concerts were in progress. The Police Commissioners questioned the right of the Common Council to exclude vehicles from the use of any street. The matter was referred to the Aldermen's Law Committee, which reported yesterday that the Common Council possesses the power to regulate the use of the streets, and can exclude temporarily either foot passengers or animals or vehicles or cars or locomotives from any of the streets. The right had been exercised and appeared to have been conceded for years, as neither cars nor locomotives had been suffered in the streets without license from the Common Council. The report was adopted.

THE ONLY REGULAR GROWLERS. A dispatch from Long Branch announced yester-day that the captains of the Life Saving Stations slong the Jersey count were dissatisfied with the acw regulations requiring them to report at least once a week at their respective stations, and to keep a log-book when on regular duty. At the beacquarters of the Life Saving Service in this city. No. 15 State-st., it was said that hothing was known there of the matter. "The men of the Jersey coast," said an official. "are the only regular growlers in the service. At Long Branch they have received some gold medals and some of the captains are in the service because of a fancy for it, and they have an idea that they can growl as they please. Complaints among them are frequently telegraphed from Long Branch. We have no official knowledge of the matter here."

Large contributions of paintings, statuary, brie-abrae and curios have been sent by collectors in New-York and Brooklyn recently to the art department of the Southern Exposition, which is to be opened at Louisvile August 1 by President Arthur. The exposition is to be on a grand scale, the general exhibition building being the size of the Centennial at Philadelphia. Besides the general exhibition building there is an art gallery built in the form of a Maltese cross, and having a high dome in the centre. This building is fire-proof and the centre will be illed with Southern palms and a number of celebrated statues. There is scarcely a well-known collection in New-York, Philadelphia or Louisville that has not contributed its choicest treasures to the art gallery of the exposition. James Sheridan Foulds, of Louisville, one of the Southern Art Committee, in speaking to a Tribunk reporter of the generous manner in which, people had opened their galleries and contributed pictures and statuary, said: "There has been hardly an instance of a collector refusing to contribute to the success of our department, and many collections, which have been closed for years to similar objects, have opened their doors to us."

ment, and many collections, which have been closed for years to similar objects, have opened their doors to us."

The contributions from New-York and Brooklyn have been extremely valuable, and will be conveyed to the exposition in a special train. Among the principal; contributors in this city are the following. General Grant has placed his entire collection of curious at the disposal of the Art Committee. August Belmont sends four pictures from his collection—"The Head of Christ," "The Dentist of the Convent," "Scene Near Venice" and "Harvesting," by Milliais. Mr. Tilden sends the well-known statue of "Flora," which is now at his house in Gramercy Park. H. V. Newcomb sends "The Battle in Church," by De Nonville. D. O. Wills contributes "Honorius," by Laurens, one of the finest modern paintings in America which Mr. Mills has recently imported. James Kune has placed his entire collection at the disposal of the Art Committee. George I. Seney has sent thirty-five pictures, including "The Helping," by Renong. General Sherman has tendered his entire collection of Gobbin tapestry, four pieces on cloth and canvas, said to be the finest in America. Mrs. Potter Palmer. of Chicago, sends her collection of brica-brac which is one of the choicest in this country, and Among other contributors are Governor Cornell, John Hay, W. B. Dinsmore, Pierrepont Morgan, E. Barry Wail, W. T. Evans, R. G. Dun and T. B. Clark.

THE BANKS AND THE COUPON FRAUDS.

The committee appointed by the Grand Jury to procure experts to investigate the affairs of the Controller's office is at work on the matter. Frederick Rhinelander has gone to Milwaukee on private business. Charles S. Smith and S. W. Comstock, the other members of the committee, yesterday called on Cashier Townsend, of the Importers and Traders' Bank, President Ferkins being out of the city. The question of appointing an expert accountant from among the clerical force employed by the bank was brought before the Board of Directors at their meeting in the afternoon. After considerable discussion it was determined that the pank could not spare the services of any one of its force for the time that the proposed investigation would require. This decision was communicated to Messrs. Smith and Comstock. THE BANKS AND THE COUPON FRAUDS.

The services of the accountant would be paid by the bank. "We think that we should do this much for the good of the public," said Mr. Baldwin, "There is a great deal of interest feit in the condition of the Finance Department, and a thorough examination by experts will show just how it stands, and whether the methods and system employed there are correct and such as would be pronounced proper in private financial concerns, I trust that the proposed investigation will be had."

RIVER THIEVES ATTACK A WATCHMAN.

John McDonnell, of No. 325 East Forty-seventhst., walked to Bellevue Hospital at 3 a. m. yesterday having three ribs fractured and several severe bruses on his face and body. He is an Irishman, forty-two years old, who has been employed for six mont's as night watchman on the pier at the foot of East Thirty-second-st. To the surgeons at the hospital he said he had been attacked by five young ruffians who were strangers to him and who probably were threves. They rowed to the pier in a small boat about midnight and he heard one of them promose to cut adritt a float which was moored there.
They had not seen him at that time, but he called to them and fired a shot in the air to warn them away. One of the ruffians swore at him as the boat went out of sight. About two hours afterward he saw the boat return, but only three of the men were in it. While he was watching the boat he was struck from behind by two men who had got on the pier unobserved. They knocked him down and took away his revolver. The men in the boat then landed and a combined assault was made upon him. He was beaten in the face and kicked in the side until he was nearly helpless.

When the ruffians went away he shouted for help for several minutes without attracting the attaution of a policeman. The 4 he walked toward his RIVER THIEVES ATTACK A WATCHMAN.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The first examination for clerkships in the custom-liouse, under the rules of the new Civil Service Confinission, was held vesterday in the Post-Office Building. John M. Comstock, H. D. Some of them were members of the Board of Examiners under the system formerly in use in the Custom-House. were members of the Board of Examiners under the system formerly in use in the Custom-House. There were fifty applicants for positions as clerks at $1,200 a year. The questions asked were prepared by the Civil Service Commissionera. They included simple questions in geography, history and arithmetic. That they were easy was proved by the fact that, contrary to the previous custom, no one of the applicants went away discouraged on seeing the list of questions. Those who pass the examination will be placed on the "eligible list," from which appointments will be made. There will be an examination to-day for applicants for positions as day inspectors, and one to-morrow for night watchmen. These examinations will be still simpler than that of yesteriay.

SHOT-RIDDLED DOYLE WILL RECOVER. Henry Doyle, the leader of the "Cats' Alley Gang," who with three other men attacked the liquor-store of Peter McCarren, at No. 652 Water-st., on Tuesday night, and after threatening to kill both the owner and Frank Donnelly, his barkeeper, was shot by the latter, lies in Ward No. 2 of Bellevue Hospital, presenting a sorry-appearance. Donnelly's gun was loaded with buckshot and thirty of them lodged in Doyle's face and body. He was transferred from the Chambers Street Hospital, where he was first taken, to Bellevue early yesterday morning, and a number of the shot were extracted from his flesh. There is little danger that his wounds will result fatally, as yesterday he expressed humself as being greatly improved. He is unable to open his left eye, and it is expected that he will be deprived of its use. Frank Donnelly was arraigned before Justice Patterson yesterday at Essex Market Police Court. He was admitted to bail for examination in $500.

THE HAMERSLEY WILL CONTEST. INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT THE ESTATE. THE SPECIFIC GROUNDS OF THE CONTEST NOT

Franklin Bartlett, who is one of the counsel for the contestants of the will of the late Louis C. Hamersley, said yesterday that the lawyers had not yet had anflicent opportunity for full consultation; therefore, he could not now state the specific grounds of the contest. He gave, however, some interesting details with regard to the large estate which the decedent left. Nearly all of it, Mr. Bartlett exolained, came from the estate of John Mason, the maternal grandfather of Mr. Hamersley. There was a contest over the will of John Mason by which his millions were disposed of. It lasted from the time of his death in 1839 until 1852, when the will was broken. Soon after his death, and while the contest was in progress, one of his daughters, who was then the wile of Gordon Hamersley, joined with her husband in a deed to Goorge Jones of all the property coming to her from the estate of John Mason, whether by will or descent. The same day Mr. Jones reconveyed the same property to Gordon Hamersley, who was the father of Louis C. Hamersley, was, under this deed, put into possession of the whole of the large estate which his wife had inherited from her father. John Mason. No question was raised during his life-time as to his title to the property, He died last winter, several months before, his son, Louis C., leaving to him the most of his estate. In addition to this which amounted to more than $80,000,000, Louis C. Hamersley had about $500,000 which he received on the death of a brother of his mother. If he had died before his father, this is all that he would have had to bequeath, and upon his father's death the millions left by his will would have gone to the Mason side of the family. Gordon Hamersley left only one brother, John Hamersley, J. Hooker Hamersley is the latter's only son and is mother. If he had died before his father, this is all that he would have deed to the will as it stands, even if there should be children of J. Hooker Hamersley living the death of Mrs. Louis C. Hamersley would receive none of the YET STATED. Franklin Bartlett, who is one of the con

SUICIDE OF A YOUNG WIFE.

A case of suicide from jealousy created much interest in the Sixteenth Ward of Brooklyn, known as "Dutchtown," yesterday. The victim of a dose of Paris green was Mrs. Mary Baner, the youthful wife of Joseph Baner, proprietor of a popular resort known, as Germania Hall, at Montrose-ave, and Leenardst. Baner, who is fully thirty years of age, was at one time a dancing master, and he fell in love with and married, last Easter, one of his prettiest pupils. Mary Binther, age eighteen, then hired Germania Hall, for dancing and selling lager beer and was doing a profitable business. Only intimate friends knew that the and his wife were not in complete barmony and that they sometimes quarreiled. On Tuesday they went on a piene excursion to Rockaway, and after their return in the evening. Mrs. Baner went to her room. About 10 o'clock she called to the sister, but her husband went to her. In a moment he ran down-stairs, calling for a doctor and saying his wife bad poisoned herself. Dr. Weygandt went to the house and, with a stomach-punp, relieved her of some of the Yaris green which she had taken, but he was unable to prevent the poison from doing its fatal work.

About 4 o'clock yesterday morning the young

About 4 o'clock yesterday morning the young woman died. She only spoke once after the doctor was called and that was when her mother asked her why she had taken the dose of poison. She replied: "It is jealousy." Fauer seemed almost heart-broken at the death of his bride of a few months. His friends say that her jealousy of him

MEETING OF THE DOCK COMMISSIONERS.

The Commissioners of Docks met yesterday at No. 119 Duane-st. The plans and specifications for the building of a new dock at Twenty-ninth-st. and North River, also for the repair of the dock at the foot of Eighty-sixth-st. and East River, so as to afford additional dock facilities, were approved. A resolution was adopted instructing the Corporation Counsel to issue an injunction against the East River Ferry Company, restraining them from continuing the repairs and removals of certain buildings at James-slip. The company obtained the permission of the Commissioners to make such repairs as they wished on their property, provided that they field an agreement in writing making certain conditions affecting the future use of the buildings. This written agreement they have not field, hence the above resolution. The question of granting the employes of the Department a half holiday on every Saturday during certain specified months was referred to the Corporation Counsel, and his opinion requested on the duties of the Board in this matter. SAVAGE ASSAULT ON A POLICEMAN.

Patrolman Patrick J. Kelly, of the Charles-st, police, dispersed a crowd of disorderly young men at Washington and Clarkson sts. at 1:15 a. m. yesterday by a vigorous use of his club. Haif an hour later, when he was passing the same point, he saw several of the rufflians there again and ordered them to go away. One of them struck him on the head from behind with a biunt weapon and knocked him down. Others then kicked him about the head and body, splitting his upper lip, knocking out some of his teeth and bruising him severely. They left Keily insensible on the sidewalk and escaped.

A roundsman of the Ninth Precinct found Kelly still unconscious at 2 a. m. and helped to remove him to St. Vincent's Hospital. When the injured officer regained his senses he gave to Captain Copeland an account of the assault and descriptions of the assaulants. Search was being made for the ruffians yesterday. The surgeon at the hospital said that Kelly would be obliged to remain in bed several days, although his injuries were not dangerous.

THE SEA-SEPPENT IN A BOWERY SHOW.
The sea-screen has at last been fairly cornered and is now exhibited at 10 cents a head in a Bowery 'knife-throwing show." The "unknown and dreadful mouster of the sea" is very rabid, though dreadill monster of the sea. Is very rabid, though pictorially represented as having been shot dead by a posse of United States marines while flying through space with a whale in his dexter claw, and visitors are warned by danger signals against putting their heads in the tank.

A TRADE BUILDERS' MEETING.

A meeting of the Trade Builders was held last evening at No. 192 Third-ave. There was much dissatisfaction among some of the delegates who were refused admission, notwithstanding the presentation of their credentials. It is said that the Union is run in the outerests of certain branches of the trade, to the detriment of the rest. It is proposed by the rejected delegates to appeal to the branches of the Union to which they severally belong, and through them to demand a hearing in the Executive Council. The meeting went into executive session.

Assaulting Policemen.

Officer John J. Coady, of the Fourth Precinct, in the Tombs Police Court yesterday preferred a charge of assault and battery against James Hickey, a pedier, fiving at No. 336 Pearlest, On Tuesday night Hickey was drunk and boisterous, and when the policeman attempted to arrest him the prisoner struck him several times and, having thrown him to the ground, kicked him about the body. Officer Ahera, who endeavored to quiet the drunken ruffian, was also roughly treated. Justice Smith committed Hickey for trial on the complaint of the officers.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST CONTAGION.

The National Board of Health sent a warning to Health Officer Smith a few days ago that the steamship City of Alexandria had yellow lever on board. When that vessel arrived at Lower Quarantine yesterday Deputy Health Officer McCartney made a rigid investigation and found that there was no fever on board. Two of the crew, who had symptoms of yellow fever before the vessel left Havana, had been sent on shore to the hospital there, and since then no cases had developed. As a precaution the vessel will discharge her cargo at Upper Quarantine and will then be cleansed and fumigated.

A NEW "WHEELBARROW" STEAMER.
The new steamboat Wilbur A. Heisley, which was built to run between New-York and points on the Shrewsbury River, arrived here from Nyack on Tuesday night on a trial trip. She is a peculiar craft of the "wheelbarrow" type so common in Southern waters. She has a paddle-wheel at the stern 24 feet in diameter, her buckets being 25 feet 4 inches in length. Her dimensions are 185 feet in length, 46 feet beam, and she draws only 3 feet of water, and she makes 15 miles an hour. She is the largest boat of her peculiar construction ever seen in New-York

BROOKLYN. BROOKLYN.

Ex-Sheriff Daggett was well enough to go away from the city yesterday to Castleton, N. Y.

A suit for breach of promise of marriage has been begun by Mrs. Hannah Kelly, a widow, age forty, of No. 95 Sackett-st., against Michael Simms, a widower of forty-five years.

A spark from a chimney set fire to the mosquito netting spread over a baby carriage in the yard in the rear of Mrs. A. Solomon's house, No. 525 Myrtleave., yesterday afternoon, and the child was slightly burned in the face.

The Board of Assessors heard yesterday the application of Martin & Fay, warehousemen, to have the assessed valuation of their property on Furman-st., near Fulton-st., reduced from $600.000 to $450,000. Last year it was valued at $500,000. The Board referred the matter to a committee.

B. G. Corwin, who drives an express wagon in East New-York, has not been seen by his friends since July 3. He had been drinking pretty hard, his wife says, and hitched up his horse on that day and drove away from home, saying he would be back shortly.

In the Special Term of the Supreme Court, Judge Barpard has handed down an opinion overruing the demurrer interposed by George Bliss to the complaint in the suit brought against him by Kenward Philp to recover $100,000 as damages for malicious prosecution and false imprisonment.

Annie Roland, age eleven, of No. 271 Court-st., malicious prosecution and false imprisonment.

Annie Roland, age eleven, of No. 271 Court-st., complained to the police yesterday that a young woman in gaudy attire had approached her in Court-st., and after admiring her earrings had persuaded her to take them out of her ears for closer examination. She then asked the girl to wait while sie went to a jewelry store to see it she could get a pair like them, and went away, but did not return.

Although four weeks have passed since Coroner Parker, of the Second District of Kings County, died, Governor Cleveland has not yet filled the vacancy. Coroner Keller finds entirely too much to do to attend all the inquests necessary in the city, and so informed the Governor several days ago. A second dispatch was sent him on Tuesday, owing to the complaints made of the Coroner's delay in attending to cases and his illness from overwork.

ORANGE.—A child of William Riley, of Grove-st., East Orange, fell into a sink on Tuesday night, and, although rescued, died shortly afterward.

PATERSON.—The drug-clerk John Laue, employed in Terhune's drug store, who was thought by some persons to have made a mistake in putting up a prescription resulting in the death of an infant named Lowenthal, did not appear at the store yesterday, and has left the city. Coroner Newcombe succeeded in finding a doctor to make an autopky of the child's remains, but it was not shown conclusively that the child had died from opium poisoning. Some congestion of the lungs was found which might or might not have been caused by an overdose of opium. The viscera were not examined, but were scaled up for analysis, if ordered. There is little possibility that any definite proof of death from any but natural causes can be found. The coroner has impanelled a jury, and will begin an inquest this afternoon.—Vevars Nussey, a young man, son of a prominent manufacturer of machinery at Paterson, was arrested yeaterday and held to bail on a complaint sworn to before Justice Weiss by Charles Brocke, stepfather of a young woman named Lizzie Hess. The complaint alleges that Nussey, who had been intimate with the girl, gave her drugs for an unlawful purpose. Miss Hoss says that Nussey is willing to marry her, but that his father will not allow him to do so. A civil suit for damages for loss of his stepdaughter's services has been instituted against Nussey by Brocke.

SEA CLIFF.—The annual camp-meeting at Sea Chiff will begin on Monday evening, July 23, and close on Sunday evening, July 29.

ROSLYN.—Frank Thayer, son of J. P. Thayer, of New-York, was taken with cramps while bathing in Hempstead Harbor yesterday morning, and drowned before assistance could reach him. His body was recovered.

NEWTOWN.—It is currently rumored that there is trouble ahead for the Highway Commissioners. Some time aco an agreement was signed by two members of the board granting the right of way through Ridgewood and vicinity to the new Manhattan Beach Railroad recently put through there. Mr. Zeh, one of the Commissioners, found that the agreement was signed some time after he became a Commissioner and without his knowledge. The Citizen Taxpayers Association has taken the materials want. Taxpayers Association has taken the matter in hand.

COLLEGE POINT.—Herman Kuntz three years ago deserted his wife at Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany, and came to this country, obtaining employment at College Point. He passed himself off as a single man and soon became quite a favorite with the young ladies. One evening his wife made her appearance. Since then they to all appearance have lived happily together. About a week ago Kuntz disappeared for the second time, taking with him $500 in money and leaving his wife destitute. him $5000 in money and leaving his wife destitute.

Long Island City.—Francis Burke recently sued the Board of Education for his salary as janitor of the Second Ward Primary School. The justice before whom the sait was tried decided that he was not entitled to the money for the reason that he was appointed by only one of the Board of Trustees, which consisted of three members. It was shown by Burke, however, that one of the members had resigned and the other was dead. County Judge Armstrong, before whom the case was taken on appeal, has decided that under the circumstances the remaining member of the board had the power to make the appointment. The decision was given to Justice Kavanigh yesterday and the counsel for the Board of Education permitted a judgment to be entered.

the Board of Education permitted a judgment to be entered.

JAMAICA.—The Queens County farmers are marketing their potatoes as fast as they can be dug. Two hundred and twenty market wagons iaden with potatoes passed through the West Jamaica toll-gate on Tuesday night on their way to the Brooklyn and New-York markets. The yield will probably fall considerably below that of last year.....The contested will case of the late Margaret Eliza Johnson of Hempstead, was before Surrogate Townsend, of Queens County, yesterday. Mrs. Johnson left an estate valued at $50,000. By her will she gave her property to her son, Samuel E. Johnson, practically disinheriting her daughter, Mrs. Mary B. Bicar, of Brooklyn, for the reason as stated by a clause in her will that her son is without means, while her daughter is well provided for. The will is contested by Mrs. Bicar. The hearing was adjourned until next Wednesday.....John Parker, who was arrested in New-York City on Saturday for stealing a horse from the stable of J. A. Amberman, has been turned over to the Queens County authorities. Parker is believed to be the leader of the horse thieves who have been at work on the Island for the last three months. the last three months.

STATEN ISLAND.

STAPLETON.—John Mills, of New-York, was badly injured yesterday by being struck on the head with a stone turown by William Bates, a bar-keeper. The two men quarrelled about the payment for some drinks. Mills, after being attended by Surgeon Lea, at Police Headquarters, was taken to his home.

THE BAREFOOTED CLARES OF PARIS.

From The London Echo.

"Ignotus," notably the pseudonym of Baron Palet, contributes to the Paris Figuro a strange history, under the title of "An Hour amongst the Dead." The dead, in this case, are living women who regard themselves as "dead to the world." They are, in fact, the little-known order of the Barefooted Clares. These ladies possess a cloister in Paris, in which there are eighteen nuns, and a few lay-sisters who act as their servants. Fourteen of the present staff of nuns are under twenty-three years of age. The reason of this, according to Baron Patel, is terrible enough to justify the intervention of the State. The rule of the Clarestis so excessively severe that nearly all the professed inmates die young. They wear a rough woollen dress, with a rope as girdle; they go barefoot on the cold stone flooting; they never warm themselves at a fire—even the kitchen fire is placed beyond their secess; they eat meat only once a year—on Christmas Day; they sleep on a narrow board; they must spend ten hours every day upon their knees; they live entirely upon alms; they are only allowed to speak to one another "upon rare occasions. "Ignotus" says that the Abbese, who "innerviewed" him through a grating, assared him that more than one of her nuns, through cultivation of this grace of silence, had actually lost the power of forming a sentence. We doubt if Mr. Carlyle 'timself would have approved so prolligious a development of the axiom that "Speech is silver, silence is golden." The Baron does not seen to have suspected that the Abbess might be chaffing the credulous man of the world. When these ladies were "in the world," they probably rad more than enough idle and purposeless chatter, for they are all members of aristocratic families, and have thus passed from one extreme to the other. Each inmate is only allowed to be visited by her parents once in the year, and the interview must take place at the iron grating where the Baron learned the details which he publishes.

When a min dies she is buried by her sister nuns. The Baron regrets that a physician of repute cannot under take the autippsy of one of the deceased clares, as he thinks that the result would be profitable to science.
